The Chicago excursionists got in this morning at 1 o'clock on the west-bound train, which was nearly four hours late. They will remain over until to-night, and an effort will be made by prominent citizens to persuade them to remain here to-morrow. The GAZETTE welcomes them to their namesake of the Southwest, and trusts that they will be so pleased as to determine to return here to stay.

COUNTERFEITERS CAUGHT.
Three Bold Operators Arrested in the City of New York.

New York, November 12.—Inspector Byrne learned two months ago that Wm. E. Brockway, Nath B. Foster and Lewis Martin, the most noted counterfeiters in the country, were preparing counterfeit securities of some kind. He also learned that Brockway, under the name of Spencer, was living in a boarding house at 270 West Eleventh street kept by Mrs. Gilbert, reputed to be his wife, that Martin occupied rooms at the St. James hotel, and Foster lived at a boarding house, 231 Lexington avenue. The men were watched, and it was found they met daily at the St. James hotel and at the house on Lexington avenue, and remained together for hours. Brockway also visited the offices of the bankers, lithographers and printers. Last week they were seen carrying several packages into the house on Lexington avenue. Yesterday morning search warrants were obtained, the services of United States secret service officers secured, and it was determined to make a simultaneous raid on the places named. Brockway was followed when leaving the Lexington avenue house and arrested. The detectives subsequently obtained entrance to the Lexington avenue house and arrested Martin and Foster. At the same hour the detectives raided Martin's rooms at the St. James hotel and Brockway's on Lexington street. At each place were found counterfeit implements. In Lexington avenue were found die stamps, plates, type and batteries. The counterfeiters had struck off spurious $1,000 seven percent construction mortgage bonds due in 1901 of the Morris & Essex division of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western carrying bonds, series B, of the Central Pacific railroad company. Even the United States internal revenue stamps on the bonds were also counterfeit. It is believed some of the spurious bonds are already placed on the market.

Wm. E. Brockway, Nathaniel Foster and Lewis Martin, the counterfeiters, at the request of Inspector Byrne, were remanded until Wednesday.

INTERESTING DECISION.
Liability of the Pullman Palace Car Company for Losses of Passengers.

Pittsburg, November 12.—In the supreme court the judgment of the lower court was affirmed in the suit of Gardner vs. the Pullman Palace Car company. The case attracted widespread attention. Gardner secured a verdict for $300, having been robbed of valuables while sleeping in one of Pullman's cars. The supreme court opinion held that the company, while not liable in action as an inn keeper or common carrier, yet a reasonable and proper degree of care is imposed on them. The main object in taking passage in such a car is to permit passengers to sleep. While in that helpless condition the duty rests on the company to provide care and caution against the valuables of a passenger being stolen from his bed or from the clothes on person. This is not a case of robbery by force and violence, but by stealthy larceny. The fact that another passenger in the same car was robbed the same night was admissible, as bearing on the absence of proper care by the company.

A Railroad Case.
Pittsburg, November 12.—In the case of the Pennsylvania company against the Pittsburg, Youngstown & Chicago railroad company, a special certiorari was allowed by the supreme court as prayed for, returnable the first Monday in December next. A stay of proceedings in the lower court was also ordered until final hearing.

Hurled to Death.
Cleveland, Ohio, November 12.—During a furious gale last night, Watchman Lamb at the woolen mills on Wilson Avenue, while examining the upper doors and windows, was blown outside the stairway and hurled across the narrow street to the ground, thirty feet below. His back was broken and he is now dead.

The Northern Pacific Suit.
New York, November 12.—A member of the Northern Pacific syndicate says the new suit against the company was brought by Daponta, who had ten shares of common stock of Northern Pacific transferred in his name Saturday. No importance is attached to the suit, which will be tried in the United States court.

A Foot Race.
St. Louis, November 11.—Lee of Pawnee City, Neb., and W. R. Nally of St. Louis, ran a foot race this afternoon, 125 yards, fifteen feet scratch start, for $100 a side. Lee won by five feet. Time, 12.5 seconds. Lee is believed to be Arthur McComb of California.

Gen. Sherman.
St. Louis, November 12.—General Sherman arrived this morning from New York. There was no reception at the depot, and the general drove direct to his residence on Garrison avenue, where he passed the morning receiving visitors.

Fatal Explosion.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., November 12.—A naked light upon a mine's head at West End mine this morning caused a terrific explosion. Michael Barocki, Jas. Esclos and Jno. Keller were killed.

Bennett's Cable.
Boston, November 12.—The American terminus of Bennett's cable will be at Loholly in the south end of the town of Rockport, Mass.

FROM WASHINGTON.
Hon. Mr. Atkins and the Clerkship of the House of Representatives.

Rich Corporations and the Collars of England and America.

A Problem of the Future—The Colonization of the Colored Race.

Kenneth Rayner and Mr. Barbour—Special and General News.

By Mail and Telegraph.

Washington, November 12.—D. W. C. Atkins, for twenty years the representative of a district of Tennessee in congress and chairman, when his party was in power, of the appropriations committee, is a candidate for the clerkship of the house. He was not re-elected to congress simply because he had served till he was tired of the position and wanted the pay and perquisites of the clerkship. He was never soiled by Credit Mobilier or other congressional stock speculations and never was approached by the lobby, and unlike Blaine and Sherman, is poorer to-day than when he entered congress. Meanwhile a numerous tribe of Atkinses has sprung into existence about his hearthstone, and the necessity for some provision for the future impels the distinguished gentleman to appeal to his party, which he has served so long and well, for the concession of this office to which he is entitled, if high character, splendid ability, admirable personal worth and fidelity to his creed and constituency give worth to men.

POOR COLLARS AND RICH CORPORATIONS.
The explosion of the coal mine in England which entombs 100 miners, induces us to reflect how remorseless is capital, especially when incorporated and when no individual is responsible for its crimes, in dealing with human creatures. These become mere machines in the hands of capital. They are worth so many dollars. Poverty forces chains. The poor are shackled and driven to toil, kicked down into black pits by machinery and hunger, used, instead of the tool, to drive these slaves into these catacombs. Here, in Pennsylvania, these bested miners still vote the Republican ticket. They are made to believe that they are beneficiaries of the tariff code and therefore do they toil and starve and vote. They are paid fifty cents, while the mine owner receives two dollars, and the railways two dollars, for each ton extracted from the bowels of the earth. The railway and mine owners are rich corporations. Nobody expects them to do justice, and yet these very victims of this incorporated greed are most zealous in assuring their masters every advantage which riches gain by robbing poverty through the intervention of the tariff.

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND SAMBO.
Bob Ingersoll's jeremiads have caused much discussion of the relations and necessities of the races collected in the South. The Daily Gazette of Alexandria, a conservative and discreet newspaper, says that while two negroes die for each white decedent, the negro race multiplies with greater rapidity than the white. Therefore it becomes dangerous. Whites will never submit to the domination of blacks and "therefore," insists the Gazette, "the negro must go."

Where? How? Will the Gazette please tell? Separation would be best for both races. Thousands of slaves, before secession came, would have liberated countless slaves, but there was no place for them. There was no neighborhood north of the Ohio in which freedmen would be suffered to constitute a community. President Polk and a planter of Natchez county, Mississippi, agreed in 1848 to liberate one hundred and twenty-three hereditary "family servants." The president's partner in the transaction traversed the North-west, and even the country about Oberlin, and nowhere would the good people of the land of Giddings and Lovejoy and Wade suffer the negro community to own land. The beneficent (?) purposes of the president and his friend were defeated and the trade agreed upon was never, therefore, consummated.

THE ASTUTE BRITISH.
What will the Alexandria Gazette do about it? Agents of the British government have informed their employers that this segregation of races in America is surely coming. I happen to know that one of these Englishmen, now of St. Louis, has advised his government, after sejourning eight years in the South, that the separation of races in this country was "a heaven-ordained necessity." The Hebrew went out of Africa for very reasons that must impel Africa to go out of America. There is not a county in any Northern state in which the people would suffer ten thousand negroes to enter and buy homes. Sambo is beloved at an immense distance, and the greater the distance the intenser this affection. Therefore the devotion of Boston and Belfast, Parson Brownlow, the trust friend of the race, declared, even in his message to the legislature of Tennessee, that colonization of the colored race should be rapidly consummated. The agent of the English government wants a million of them for some island in the South Sea. Can't they be spared?

WORSE THAN A FLEA DRIVER.
If it be true that the cotton-picking machine, now used in South Carolina, can gather two and a half bales of cotton each day, there can be no reason in nature why the negro should not go. Sambo, as an industrial fact, is no longer a necessity, and as a political agent he is a confessed nuisance. The North had already begun to believe this when his
